with second raters.

Papke was suspended by the boxing commission for running out of a match with Frank Mantell at a club in Harlem. Papke explained his strange behavior by declaring that he had injured his hand while getting out of a cab in front of the clubhouse, but he did not take the trouble to go inside to convince the manager that he had been disabled. Papke denied that a beating he received at the hands of Mantell in California a year ago suddenly had made him think of backing out of a second bout.

McGoorty recently told Gibson that he readily would accept a chance to box either Klaus or Papke ,whichever proved successful or March 5, but in the meantime he intended to erase the blot on his reputation caused by the recent fiasco with Mike Gibbons in the Garden.

McGoorty has planned to meet all comers as often as possible. His first step towards regaining the confidence of the public was taken last night when he defeated Freddie Hicks, McGoorty will tackle Jack McCarren of Philadelphia, a tough customer. The Oshkosh middleweight customer. The Oshkosh middleweight also is after bouts with Jack Dillon and Jimmy Clabby, two of the best men in his class. McGoorty already has claimed the world's title because of the fact that he knocked out Dave Smith ,champion of Australia, and Jack Harrison, holder of the Lord Lonsdale belt, each in less than a round last summer.

Traders on the long side of the market operated more confidently, basing their belief in the technical strength of their cosition on the failure of yesterday's sharp upturn to bring out a supply of stocks awaiting a market and on the supposed vulnerability of the short interest. There was further covering of short contracts, and at times during the session prices were marked up in response to

The news of the acceptance by Turkey of the neace terms was followed by an outburst of active buying for both accounts, during which prices were lifted to the highest point of the day. Substantial gains were registered

FINANCIAL AND

Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh middle-weight sailed for France on Saturday to prepare for his twenty round battle with Billy Papke in Paris on March 5. Klaus notified Billy Gibson that in the even of a victory over Papke he will return immediately to New York city to arrange a match with Eddle McGoorty to be held at Madison Square Garden early in April.

Klaus is very confident that he can whip both Papke and McGoorty. He says that he will bet $1,000 on himself to whip Papke—for him an unusual practice. Klaus figures that by taking the measure of these middle-weights he will have an undisputed right to the world's champoinship at 158 pounds ringside—a title that has not been rightfully earned since the death of Stanley Ketchel.

Papke will sail next week, equally sure of success. He insists that he has recovered the form he displayed in several sensational fights with Ketchel, but there are many competent followers of boxing who do not agree with him. In several bouts in the summer of 1911 Papke

Plank has been a conscientious and willing worker in the twelve years he has pitched for Mack, and every true fan will wish him success. Bender did not pitch up to his form last season and became discouraged. He broke off the reservation and was fined and suspended for the remainder of the season. the season.

Since then he has thought it over and announced with a whoop that he would demonstrate that he could be a good Indian while still alive. If Mack's system of winter training proves ef-fective in rejuvenating Plank, Bender and Coombs, the Boston Red Sox are going to be the most exhausted athletes on record before they win the pennant in 1913—if they win it.

Senators at Inauguration.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Manager Clark
Griffith of the Washington American league baseball team has planned to have the regular members of the 1913 team see the inauguration of President-elect Woodrow Wilson as guests of the club management. Today he sent letters to members of the team ordering them to report here March 3.
The team will go in training at Charlottesville, Va., March 5 or 8.

The football rules of last year gave more satisfaction than any code which has been in operation for some years, and it isn't likely that there will be much for the rules committee to do at its annual meeting this winter; nevertheless, suggestions for changes are being advanced. Walter McCornack, the former Dartmouth captain and coach, advocates a change which would provide that goals following touchdowns be kicked from sample.

HOW PALZER STANDS. Wen't Be Considered Seriously Until He Wipes Out Recent Defeat.

Before sporting men will seriously consider Al Palser's chances in the proposed battle with Jack Johnson in Parls on June 25 the Iowa farmer Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics has not only grabbed Time by the forelock, but has yanked the old gentlemen into the middle of winter. His latest is to send Bender, Plank and Coombs to San Antonio, Tex., to start conditioning for the 1913 season. That beats the other magnates to the early bird pennant by a month or more. The three victims of the long preparation are all veterans, but Coombs is not so aged as Bender and Plank.

Parls on June 26 the lowa farmer must partially wipe out the crushing defent received at the hands of Luther McCarty on New Year's day. Tom O'Rourke says that Palzer was a nervous wreck before he met McCarty, which may have been true. But there are several big fellows whom Palzer must defeat to regain some of his lost prestige. If he can defeat such heavy-weights as Jess Willard, Fireman Jim Flynn, Tommy Ross, Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford, who is on his way here from Australia, Palzer then will Plank.

They are to spend a month taking long walks and such helpful exercise, then start pliching and round into shape very slowly. The experiment will he highly interesting, especially as regards Plank. That brilliant left-hander thought in his heart that the 1912 campaign would be his last, and has been getting ready to retire for cal condition, will be an easy mark. In the state of the search of

That very fact will increase the specimentar tremendously. The scientific element per se will be improved about a thousand per cent. The great and important thing, however, is that it permits the team to enter the contest. Factball is essentially a team game.

"To a man who has played and ceached the game it seems almost oriminal to see a team win by one point made by two out of eleven men, while its opponents lose throun a fallure to kick the goal, although they may far outclass their victors in real football ability."
